Band set to hit the road

The Jake Allen Band, with a new line-up of musicians, will launch a national tour on Sunday.

Jake Allen is the stage name for Jacob Allen Bondar, a 2006 Grayling High School graduate.

The kickoff show will be held at 6 p.m. on Sunday, July 11 at Dharma Music, located at 600 North James Street. There is a $5 admission fee to get in the door, which also features a band called "Reign."

Allen produced an EP for the band and is producing an album for the group.

"They're a very cool, epic, progressive Christian rock band," Allen said. Pg. 7

Marathon could feature another record field in 2010

The AuSable River Canoe Marathon — a 120-mile race from Grayling to Oscoda held annually during the last full weekend of July — has grown significantly in the last few years, establishing new participation records three consecutive times. Will this year's group — a field that included 91 canoes as of July 3 — extend the streak to four?

Ninety paddling teams started last year's AuSable Marathon, breaking the previous record — 76, set in 2008 — by 14. The 2009 race's starting total — 75 — was also a new record at the time, topping the previous record of 68, a mark that was set in 2000.

The AuSable River Canoe Marathon Committee is expecting another record or near-record group in 2010. Pg. 10

GRA 10K to move back into town for 2010 race

The GRA 10K — an annual foot race conducted by the Grayling Recreation Authority during the AuSable River Festival — is changing locations this year, going from the high school, where the race has been held for the past eight years, to the middle school, where the race was conducted prior to a venue change in 2002.

Justin Andre, director of GRA, said the change is an attempt to generate a closer association with the AuSable River Festival.

"We wanted to get it back in town," Andre said. "All the other (AuSable River Festival) events are happening downtown. Since moving to the high school we've lost some of that involvement with the festival." Pg. 9

Court beefs up collection efforts for old case fines

by Dan Sanderson

Staff Writer

46th Circuit Trial Court officials have beefed up efforts to collect fines and restitution owed on old court cases.

Chief 46th Circuit Trial Court Judge Janet M. Allen said that court employees have researched cases where people have been off probation, been off parole or served their time in jail or prison.

In cases where restitution is owed to the victims or fines owed to the counties, court employees make an attempt to contact the people at their current address. They may also be mailed a notice to appear in court or served papers.

"Restitution is always collectible until it is paid," Allen said.

When the person appears in court, court staff get their personal and employment information. They may agree to a payment plan for the restitution and fines or a wage assignment — a voluntary deduction from their pay to satisfy the debt.

So far, the collection efforts has resulted in $24,000 coming back to Crawford County, $6,666 going to the State of Michigan and $19,000 being repaid to victims. About $3,700 in fines has been collected for the Crawford County Library System.

"I'm sure they always enjoy getting money that is kind of found money," Allen said.

Allen said the court is bringing the money back to victims and the county through the work of existing court employees, instead of having staff devoted for collection efforts like in courts located downstate.

"Compared to District Court, it's not a huge number — but it's a start," Allen said.

Allen, who was appointed to serve as a 46th Circuit Trial Court Judge in 2005, said she learned procedures used in Grand Traverse County to collect fines from defendants up front. If a family member posts bond in a case, that money can be used to pay fines and restitution when the case is finalized.

"A lot of times when you get to a sentencing in a Circuit Court file, that relationship had deteriorated and they want their money back," Allen said.

Allen said that judges make sure that people know the fines and costs they owe at their sentencing so they can liquidate their assets. In addition, probation officers go over the money owed by the defendant on their first report date, although the money is usually the last thing to be paid to satisfy the terms of a successful probation period.

"The probation officers here are fantastic about not releasing anyone until their costs are paid in full," Allen said.

State Supreme Court election is vital

ONE OF THE most unsettling contests in Michigan's ultra-fascinating 2010 election will be for two seats on the state Supreme Court, which has seven members.

Terms of two of the current jurists are up this year, and both will be running for reelection. There's no news in that. Incumbents this year are Justices Robert P. Young, Jr., and Elizabeth Weaver.

Michigan's method of picking Supreme Court justices makes no sense at all, but it adds to the turmoil this year.

Under our system, political parties may nominate candidates for seats on the court.

After nomination by the parties, court candidates appear on a separate non-partisan ballot in the general election, with no notation of party affiliation.

Once elected, the justices are supposed to shed party allegiance and become politically untainted in their judicial activities.

Incumbent justices also can nominate themselves, without party endorsement, by filing a statement of candidacy. That's what both incumbents have done this year, too.

JUSTICE YOUNG, who was appointed to the Supreme Court by Republican Gov. John Engler and then won a full eight-year term in 2002 as a Republican nominee, also is seeking Republican nomination again this year.

Justice Weaver, on the other hand, will be running as a wild card. When she filed her own nomination last week, she said "I need no nomination of any political party to be on the ballot and seek none. It is that independent-thinking judge that is the most highly valued member of any court, state or federal."

Educated at Tulane University in Louisiana, including a law degree, she first practiced law there before moving to Michigan's Glen Arbor in 1973. She was elected Leelanau County juvenile judge in 1974, was reelected twice, then was elected to the state court of appeals in 1986 and reelected in 1992, before winning the Republican nomination and election to the state Supreme Court in 1994, then renominated and reelected in 2002.

As part of a Republican-nominated majority on the court, Ms.

Weaver served two years as chief justice, but was denied another term in that job by her Republican nominated colleagues.

In more recent years, she frequently found herself at odds with others in the Republican majority, usually about procedural matters as well as legal interpretations and personality issues, leading sometimes to near-outright warfare, limited though such arguing must be within tradition-bound judicial chambers.

For the past two years, Justice Weaver also has been a vital "swing vote" in several cases, often siding with the three Democratic-nominated justices and leaving the three other Republican-nominated justices in the minority.

It was Ms. Weaver's vote which gave the Chief Justice role last year to Justice Marilyn Kelly, a Democratic nominee.

Acrimony heightened when Justice Young publicly made it clear that he did not want nomination by the Republican convention if it also nominates Ms. Weaver.

"Let me put it this way," Mr. Young said. "They can nominate her or they can nominate me."

IN THIS convoluted scenario, the two major parties now must decide their strategies for the 2010 Supreme Court race.

The two incumbents, Justices Young and Weaver, will be identified as incumbent justices on the non-partisan ballot, but no party designation will appear.

In only a handful of instances have incumbent judges, designated as such, been rejected by voters. The most recent was in 2008 when Michigan Democrats launched a massive campaign against Chief Justice Cliff Taylor, a Republican stalwart from way back, and the Democratic nominee, Diane Hathaway, won handily.

This year, Michigan Democrats have made it clear that defeating Justice Young is a top party priority, and seeds of an anti-Young campaign echoing the anti-Taylor campaign of 2008 have been sown. One Democratic posture seeks to link Justice Young to defender of "big oil," however that may be identified. Another harks back to their successful campaign against Cliff Taylor, hinting that Justice Young sleeps on the job, too.

IN THIS SETTING, how do both major parties handle candidates for the court?

Do Republicans march single file behind Mr. Young, concentrating their efforts to try to save at least one seat of the two at stake?

Do Democrats take it easy on Ms. Weaver, on the premise that if she disagrees with Republicans so often, she must be pretty good herself?

Most likely both parties will fill the field, with two convention nominations each, making at least five "name" candidates for two spots.

In addition, three or four minor party candidates usually show up on the Supreme Court ballot. Only their names with no other information will be on the ballot.

In a field as crowded as this one, and with so many personality issues swirling around, and with majority control of the Michigan Supreme Court at stake, this is bound to be an election to remember.

Letters to the Editor

Let's make some calls and write some letters

To the editor:

Congratulations to Katharine Webster for her remarks about MDOT. I have written my congressman about it.

Maybe if more people did we could get some action and get the roads re-lined back to the way it was (before we lose all the tourist traffic for this season).

Here we are on Thursday of the July 4th holiday and the roads are jammed - traffic is backed up to the entrance ramp.

So, let's make some calls and write some letters folks.

I think the city and the county need to join us in this effort. It's going to take a lot of calls and a lot of letters to make this happen.

Let's do it before we're sitting here with MDOT's great idea and no traffic, i.e. no business.

Fireworks were the best ever

To the editor:

We have family that travels north for their vacation and it's always the first week of July. They love Grayling's fireworks. They live in the Trenton and Woodhaven area in lower Michigan and both cities had no fireworks this year. Their cities couldn't afford it.

Well Grayling, you did not disappoint them. This year was the best ever.

The disc jockey at the Grayling Country Club did a great job at orchestrating the fireworks with patriotic music. It was fun and it was amazing.

The local merchants and Booster Club made it happen.

Why isn't city ordinance enforced?

To the editor:

This is more on an inquiry than anything. It has to do with the home across from the Elementary School with all of the junk surrounding the home. I must admit I do not live in town, but I do have to drive past this home whenever I do come to town and this piece of property is a real eyesore. I'm not trying to be mean, but I can't help but wonder what visitors must think when they see this accumulation of stuff in this yard.

I did look up the city ordinances and in Section 14-24, it states, "No person shall be permitted to accumulate junk on any property, commercial or residential, within the city." So, why is this person being allowed to do so? This yard has cars, trailers, boats, several of each, along with many other items, the yard is completely full.

I know of an individual who had only one extra car in the drive, sitting, waiting for parts and they were issued a citation and were forced to remove the vehicle.

My next question is why isn't this ordinance being enforced? Just wondering.

The Bible Speaks

Is Cremation Christian?

In the Bible God honors burial as His method of disposing of the human body. The entire 23rd chapter of Genesis shows us the importance of the burial of Sarah by Abraham. Even the bones of Joseph were carried up out of Egypt to the promised land. The journey took 40 years, and took place 300 years after Joseph's death. God personally buried His servant Moses in a sepulcher in a valley in Moab. (Deuteronomy 34:5-8) Jesus Christ, our example, was buried following His death. Even the gospel of Jesus Christ includes His burial. (1 Corinthians 15:1-3) Our baptism as Christians is symbolic of the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ for our sins. (Romans 6:3-5)

Cremation is in the Bible, but it is identified with a curse of God and not an honorable burial. In Deuteronomy 7:25 God commanded that idols or images of false gods be burned or cremated. "The graven images of their gods shall ye burn with fire..." Because of disobedience, God commanded that Achan be burned or cremated. "And it shall be, that he that is taken with the accursed thing shall be burnt with fire, he and all that he hath: because he hath transgressed the covenant of the Lord and because he hath wrought folly in Israel." (Joshua 7:15)

Not to have a proper burial in the Bible was a dishonor. God pronounced a curse upon King Jehoiakim in which he was to have no burial. "He shall be burned with the burial of an ass." (Jeremiah 22:19) God compares cremation to animal burials. God also disapproved of the burning of human bodies, even of our enemies. (Amos 2:1) Cremation in the Bible is identified with a divine curse.

Christians have positive reasons to desire a Christian burial. Our bodies are the temples of the Holy Ghost. (1 Corinthians 6:19) Our bodies are members of Christ. (1 Corinthians 6:15) Our bodies are the seed of the resurrection bodies. (1 Corinthians 15:38) The Holy Spirit indwells our bodies until the time of the resurrection. (Romans 8:11) In light of the fact that salvation includes our body, both in this life and throughout eternity, it is most fitting that we respect the body in burial.

Unsaved people may consider cremation a very practical, sanitary and economical way to dispose of the body. One rejecting the fear of eternal Hell and dying without faith in Jesus Christ may feel consistent cremating the body. Cremation will not prevent God's future resurrection and/or judgment of the body. More important than your body is the relationship of your soul to Jesus Christ. "For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" (Mark 8:36) Pastor "B"

The bride and groom are both employed by the University of California, where they met.

They are residents of Kingsburg, Calif.

The maid of honor was Janet McLain. Julie's son, Scott Christiansen, gave his mother away.

The best man was John Wreschinsky. All are from California.

The bride is a graduate of Fresno State University and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carder.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Robert Sievert of Grayling and Ft. Myers, Fla.

The Ahmans came to Grayling at the request of Mr. R. Hanson in 1904. Mr. Ahman was needed to keep the machinery running in five sawmills and to lay out a water system for Grayling, which he did. Four children were born to them here. The Thomas Cassidy's with their seven children arrived in 1909 to run the Cassidy Bakery and Candy Shops and later Shoppenagon's Inn. They ran the Inn for 40 years.

The newly weds are returning to Grayling and their honeymoon.

Jake Allen Band set to hit the road after going away gig in Grayling

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

The Jake Allen Band, with a new line-up of musicians, will launch a national tour on Sunday.

Jake Allen is the stage name for Jacob Allen Bondar, a 2006 Grayling High School graduate.

The kickoff show will be held at 6 p.m. on Sunday, July 11 at Dharma Music, located at 600 North James Street. There is a $5 admission fee to get in the door, which also features a band called "Reign."

Allen produced an EP for the band and is producing an album for the group.

"They're a very cool, epic, progressive Christian rock band," Allen said.

Allen, 21, met the current members of his band while playing a solo acoustic guitar performance at the Farmfest in Johannesburg in 2009. Allen is the singer and plays the guitar for the progressive rock band, while Nick Hohn plays the bass and Jacob Filarski handles the drum duties. Both musicians are 18 and are from Gaylord.

Allen played the Farmfest gig after living six months in San Diego. After Farmfest he headed out West and then traveled toward Seattle where he fell in love with the Pacific Northwest. Adam Hoppe, a former drummer for the band, joined him for the two-month tour.

On the trip, Allen met Justin Wilson, a Grammy award-winning producer from Kansas City. Wilson, who worked for Sony, has produced such artists as Christina Aguilera and Justin Timberlake. Last October, Allen recorded a pair of songs in Wilson's studio.

"He has one of the top-rated studios in Kansas City, so it was really a privilege to get in there and work with somebody like that who is very talented himself," Allen said.

After the opening gig in Grayling, the Jake Allen Band will head to shows in Chicago, Kansas City, Manitou Springs, Colo.,

Prescott, Ariz., Los Angeles, San Diego and Phoenix.

Allen books his own shows through researching venues and music business contacts through the Internet. He said he feels comfortable out on the road and has worked his way up to where the band can stay in hotels and take vacations from their hectic schedule.

"It's kind of a leap of faith every time I go," Allen said. "I really have to assume I'll be OK and so far I have been."

Allen's main goal for the tour is building the band's fan base and possibly going on the road with a national act with a bigger following.

"Hopefully, I can pick up some new fans for my band by doing that," Allen said. "I'm just going to keep going out and networking and meeting as many people as I can. I'm just doing it and loving it."

The Jake Allen Band is also set to release its next album, which should hit the streets in October.

"I feel that this album will be the beginning of a new level of awareness for me and listeners alike," Allen said.

Allen has played around with keyboards as long as he can remember. He recorded his first album, "Looking at the Sky," with his father, Allen Bondar, when he was 9-years-old and gave copies to classmates. Over the years, Allen played in a handful of different bands in Grayling. From age 14 to 18, Allen recorded the first Jake Allen album "Heart Consumer and the Artist." He played all instruments for the album.

Throughout the recording

of the album, Allen became interested in the technical aspects of recording and was hired by Dharma Records to engineer and produce albums for other artists.

"It was a good feeling to step away from your music and to help others with their creative vision from time to time," Allen said.

Shortly after finishing the "Heart Consumer and the Artist," Allen became interested in tap acoustic finger style guitar artists. Andy McKee, who is known for his avant-garde playing style, primarily influenced him.

On a two-month trip to Alaska in 2008, Allen wrote a majority of a record called "Sleep" using the newly acquired acoustic guitar style.

"This was a perfect time and place to write an album and I feel like I was really able to capture the things I saw and felt on that trip in those songs," Allen said. "At this point, my vision about who I would be as an artist became much more clearer to me."

In January 2009, Allen and a friend and fellow musician named Sarah, left Michigan on his first exploration of the country. They ended up visiting musical hot spots like Nashville, Austin and their favorite place to perform, Sedona, Ariz. Allen, who met Sarah at one of his shows, played open mics almost every night and funded most of the trip through CD sales. They also played their guitars on the streets in tourist towns where busking was allowed.

"This was a time of major growth for me - not only as a musician - but also as a person," Allen said. "I found myself indulging in the work of philosophers and mystics, searching for answers to bigger questions in life. Losing myself in all of this stuff was great fuel for writing new music."

More recently, Allen has performed with a band called "Generations." He has played drums for the band's gigs, while Al Bondar plays keyboards, Don Davis plays guitar and Logan Moore, a Dharma Music employee, plays the bass.

Every place they went they heard the same stories. "If you don't deal with me, well you just won't get the best deal", "Nobody but nobody gives as good of deals as we do", "We give more than anyone else for your trade in". We have all heard it right. Well just when they felt they had enough of the stories and one liners, they were told to go see...

Tune in next week to find out what happens next.

GRA 10K to move back into town for 2010 race

Event slated for July 24 during AuSable River Festival

by Caleb Casey
Senior Staff Writer

The GRA 10K – an annual foot race conducted by the Grayling Recreation Authority during the AuSable River Festival – is changing locations this year, going from the high school, where the race has been held for the past eight years, to the middle school, where the race was conducted prior to a venue change in 2002.

Justin Andre, director of GRA, said the change is an attempt to generate a closer association with the AuSable River Festival.

"We wanted to get it back in town," Andre said. "All the other (AuSable River Festival) events are happening downtown. Since moving to the high school we've lost some of that involvement with the festival. Now when the participants finish they will be right downtown."

From 2002 through 2009, the GRA 10K started and finished at the track/football stadium at Grayling High School, utilizing the track and the Grayling Bicycle Turnpike, a paved trail for non-motorized traffic. The change in venues back to the middle school will mean a significant change in course style, putting the race back on city/county streets. While the switch will mean more work for race organizers, Andre said the change could give the runners a better race.

"A real road course is a lot more interesting from a runner's perspective," Andre said. "And when all is said and done, they're downtown still."

Andre said the City of Grayling and the Sheriff's Department are helping with road crossings and other course issues.

"There's a lot of help from the community," he said.

The race will begin at 9 a.m. on Saturday, July 24 (the same day as the start of the AuSable River Canoe Marathon).

The 10K starts at Grayling Middle School and the looped course will include portions of Michigan Avenue, Roberts Road, and Lake Street.

Registration forms for the 2010 GRA 10K are available in PDF form on the Internet at www.hanson-hills.org. Participants can also register on the day of the race. All entrants will receive a race T-shirt.

Last year's GRA 10K featured 131 runners. Ninety-one people took part in the 2008 race. In 2001 – the last time the GRA 10K utilized the downtown course – 141 runners participated.

Amazing Race

AuSable River Canoe Marathon could feature another record field in 2010

by Caleb Casey
 Senior Staff Writer

The AuSable River Canoe Marathon – a 120-mile race from Grayling to Oscoda held annually during the last full weekend of July – has grown significantly in the last few years, establishing new participation records three consecutive times. Will this year's group – a field that included 91 canoes as of July 3 – extend the streak to four?

Ninety paddling teams started last year's AuSable Marathon, breaking the previous record – 76, set in 2008 – by 14. The 2007 race's starting total – 75 – was also a new record at the time, topping the previous record of 68, a mark that was set in 2000.

The AuSable River Canoe Marathon Committee is expecting another record or near-record group in 2010.

"There's a few more teams out there. There's going to be as many as last year, if not more," said John Lucey, chairman of the committee. "We're concerned with the number. Ninety is about the max of what we can handle with all the logistics in place. If we get into three digits there will be some issues we'll have to overcome. We've already outgrown a lot of the venues."

"We've got some contingency plans on the table," Lucey said, "but until we reach those numbers..."

Last year, in order to accommodate time trials for all 90 teams, the Marathon Committee expanded the hours for the event, running sprints from 3-9 p.m. on Thursday and 2-6 p.m. on Friday. Time trials – an event in which all AuSable Marathon teams paddle a looped course at Penrod's to determine placements for the start of the race – will be held on Thursday and Friday, July 22 and 23, this year. The schedule will be the same as last year, unless a spike in registrations forces a further increase in available time.

Also – like last year – the paddlers' briefing held on the Saturday of the AuSable Marathon will now be held at Grayling Middle School's outdoor play area instead of the lawn at Citizens Bank – an area that does not have sufficient space for the number of canoes and paddlers that have been racing in recent AuSable Marathons. Lucey said the new area worked out well last year because it is fenced in and has "a lot more room" than the previously used venue.

Lucey said the AuSable Marathon should help provide a lot of customers for local businesses in July.

"Things are moving along. It's going to bring a lot of people to town, which is good," Lucey said.

Lucey said the event's two biggest draws are probably the challenge of a non-stop race held during the night and the "hospitality" of Crawford County.

"It's a non-stop race and it's raced at night. That's the challenge that brings folks from all over. When folks come here for the first time, they're very impressed with the folks in town, making them feel welcome. There's a hospitality here. When people get here they want to come back. That's probably the biggest draw. That's an asset for this town, because these people will sleep here, they will eat here, they will buy stuff here," Lucey said.

This year's AuSable Marathon – as with previous races – will feature several out-of-state competitors and some from outside of the United States.

"Competitors are from all over – a couple of Canadian teams, people from out east, an Alaskan team. We're still generating interest from far and wide," Lucey said.

According to Lucey, many of the out-of-town teams will come to Grayling during the Spike's Challenge weekend (one week prior to the AuSable Marathon) and stay for the whole week leading up to the main event. Some will even come to town in early July and stay for most of the month, he said.

The City of Grayling is currently in the midst of a reconstruction project on Ingham Street – a road that paddling teams use during the running start of both the Spike's Challenge and the AuSable Marathon.

According to city officials, "(the project) should be 80 to 90 percent complete" by then.

The Spike's Challenge weekend will feature a series of races, including a C-1 event and a C-2 race. The C-2 race is similar to the AuSable Marathon, but it's significantly shorter and it's held during the daytime. Many AuSable Marathon teams use the Spike's Challenge – an event that includes the first part of the AuSable Marathon course, Grayling to McManis Bridge – as a warm-up race. Like the AuSable Marathon, the Spike's Challenge C-2 race also uses a time trials event to establish starting positions for the event's running start.

This year's Spike's Challenge sprints will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, July 17, at the city park. The C-1 race (one-person canoe) will start at 6 p.m. on July 17 at Borchers AuSable Canoeing and end (approximately) 40 to 70 minutes later at Burton's Landing (off M-72 East). The C-2 race will begin at 9 a.m. on Sunday, July 18, at the Old AuSable Fly Shop. Teams reach the finish line at McManis Bridge – the fourth (of 15) timing checkpoint for the AuSable Marathon – in 2.5 to 4 hours, approximately.

The 2010 Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon – the 63rd race in the event's history – will start at 9 p.m. on Saturday, July 24. Competitors that finish the race will reach Oscoda in 14 to 19 hours. Generally, several teams drop or are disqualified due to a variety of reasons – fatigue, injury, equipment issues, failing to meet timing requirements at checkpoints – throughout the night. Of the 90 teams that started last year, 75 officially reached the finish line.

Wednesday Ladies League

by Donna Thomson

The Wednesday ladies ended the month of June with a beautiful sunny day, even though we had a cold start. Today was also our very first time to PLAY FOR P.I.N.K. and it was a great success. This was a new venture for us, as with this organization, 100 percent of the monies collected go directly to Breast Cancer Research as everyone is a volunteer. About 50 gals golfed today and all were nicely attired in pink and white.

Upon entering the clubhouse, it has been decorated beautifully by Nancy Hoffman and her committee. Nancy always makes sure we have fresh flowers for the tables. Sweetpeas in pink with white accent in beautiful vases on pink tablecloths.

The course itself was decorated with help from Retalou Tobin, who helped me get flowers and or a pink noodle made into the Breast Cancer sign out on all the tee boxes. Jack Trudgeon helped me by making the stakes for the noodles.

We then registered with Jeanette Kitchen, who had all our team cards made up prior to going out. Mickey Perez, our able treasurer, took care of the monies collected for the day. Next, we moved on and bought mulligans from Ruth Burger and Gloria Neilson and then purchased a ticket for a later raffle from Aggie Trudgeon.

Kay Ellen King made sure we all had coffee and doughnuts before we went out.

Our game today was a straight scramble and coming in first place was the team of Connie Gates, Kay Ellen King, Jeanette Kitchen and Brenda Truskan. In 2nd place was the team of Pam Nielson, Sue Hildebrand, Joan Waterman and Ruby Weigle. Each of the winners received a beautiful crystal paperweight.

There also was a closest to the pin prize on #5 which was won by Marla Chandler (she won a watch) and the other prize was for closest to the pin on #11, won by Judy Williamson, who received a nice new pitching wedge. Paul Van Mill was the "Man in Pink" and measured everyone's shots on this green. I thought it would be too cold for him to wear his nice pink shorts, but I should have known better, he arrived in nice pink slacks.

Upon arriving back at the clubhouse, we were treated to some lovely hor's d'oeuvres brought in by a few of the members and later had a chef salad luncheon and a roll. Glen's Markets had donated a beautifully decorated cake for our day and that was a treat for all.

Lynda Hetrick, head of the golf committee this year, thanked all for joining us today, plus all the members of our group who helped so much. Juanita Brown, Shelly Cohee, Sherry Hanson and Mo McNamara who toured to city, wrote letters etc. which resulted in great door prizes and monetary gifts by our generous business owners and individuals. Our caring community never lets us down.

We then had our gift raffle headed by Sherry Hanson and Lynda Hetrick and all were pleased with what they received. We had some very nice door prizes and one I thought was very special and in keeping with our theme was a hand-made pink and white headcover made by Carole Batway.

As I've mentioned in the past we are golfing with a lot of survivors and this year was no exception. Truly makes any of our efforts so very worthwhile. We hope all who participated this year will join us next year and ask a friend. Until next week, that's all "fore" now.

Tuesday Morning Ladies League

Results for June 29: Mickey Perez and Debi Bonkoski moved back into first place by forfeit from Linda Marcereau and Roxanne James and Katy McNamara and Bev McNamara bowed into second place. JoAnne Michal won low putts and Balkis Shippy took a birdie with a long putt on #7. Roxanne won three skins, JoAnne had two skins, Debi had one skin as Linda Fouts, Balkis and Bev as well. Though it was very windy and chilly everyone played all 18 holes and had a nice lunch in the clubhouse.

Till the birdies fly, have a great day.

Grayling Little League

Grayling Little League's junior division (ages 13-14) all-star baseball team advanced through pool play last week with a 2-1 record in three games. The team – coached by Tom Barnes and Dale Metzger and sponsored by Penrod's and River Park Campground – defeated Oscoda and Roscommon but lost to Traverse City West. Tournament pool play was held at Grayling High School's baseball field.

On Sunday, June 27, Grayling won 16-2 vs. Oscoda in the team's first game of pool play. Later in the day, Grayling won 9-3 vs. Roscommon.

Grayling had 23 hits combined in the two Sunday games.

"The boys hit the ball very well on Sunday with a two-game team batting average of .418 and an on-base percentage of .600," Coach Barnes said. "Jeff Enos was 6 for 7 with two doubles and four runs batted in. Michael Branch was 5 for 6 with four RBIs, and Jake Swander was 3 for 7 with one double and five RBIs."

Leading hitters for Grayling: (vs. Oscoda) Enos, 4 for 4, 4 RBIs, 2 runs; Swander, 1 for 4, 3 RBIs, 2 runs; Ty Jensen, 1 for 4, 2 RBIs, 2 runs; Branch, 2 for 4, 4 runs, 1 RBI; Justice Junttila, 1 for 4, 2 RBIs, 2 runs; Darin Nicholas, 1 for 4, 2 runs; (vs. Roscommon) Matt Burrell, 1 for 5, 2 runs; Swander, 2 for 5, 2 RBIs, 2 runs; Jensen, 1 for 4, 1 RBI, 1 run; Branch, 3 for 4, 3

RBIs, 1 run; Enos, 2 for 4, 1 run; Zack Cheney, 1 for 4, 1 run; Nicholas, 1 for 2, 1 RBI; Gunner Metzger, 1 for 4, 1 run.

"Our pitchers did a great job. Justice Junttila, Michael Branch, and Jake Swander combined for a one-hitter against Oscoda, and Matt Burrell, Michael, and Jake gave up just six hits against Roscommon," Coach Metzger said.

Both coaches said the team played strong defense on Sunday. "(They) committed only three errors during the two games, in rainy weather conditions," they said.

The two wins guaranteed Grayling's advancement out of pool play.

On Wednesday, June 30, Grayling fell 14-9 vs. TC

West.

Grayling had 15 hits to Traverse City's eight, but two bad innings – five in the first and eight in the sixth – resulted in a five-run loss.

"We just couldn't get that one hit we needed to break open an inning," Coach Metzger said.

"Our boys did a great job battling and making this game very close. Many teams would have folded after giving up five runs in the first inning but these boys didn't," Coach Barnes said.

Jensen was 3 for 5 with two RBIs. Junttila was also 3 for 5 with two RBIs. Thomas Barnes was 2 for 4 with two RBIs.

Grayling and TC West both advanced to district play.

Jake Swander, left, winds up for a pitch during Grayling's 16-2 victory vs. Oscoda in all-star tournament pool play. Justice Junttila, right, tosses the bat after drawing a walk.

Darin Nicholas, left, scores a run for Grayling vs. Oscoda on June 27. Second baseman Zack Cheney, right, throws to first base after fielding a grounder.

Honors (Sports)

Two players from the Grayling High School varsity girls soccer team – goalkeeper Ciara Summers (junior) and striker Hannah Haven (freshman) – were recently awarded all-state honorable mentions. Both players also received all-region recognition for the 2010 season.

A LOOK AT OUR PAST FROM THE PAGES OF THE AVALANCHE

23 Years Ago
July 9, 1987

Stories of excellent fishing in Wakeley Lake which have circulated over the years have been born out this year when a week long creel census was taken by the Institute for Fisheries Research. The lake is now managed by the U.S. Forest Service and was closed to all fishing for a year while it was studied and a management plan worked out. The new regulations include catch and release for all fish. It is also required that anglers walk in the few hundred yards from M-72 whether or not they have a boat.

After 16 years with the United States Post Office, Grayling Branch, Larkin Baker is retiring. Baker came to the postal position after another retirement from the military where he served in the local area.

Spike's remained in a tie for first place in the Mens' Softball League by beating Airway Automation twice. Spike's won the first game 14 - 0, after scoring eight runs in the first inning. Dale Papendick hit a home run for Spike's.

Crawford County and the county fair board can breathe easier now because the Department of Natural Resources has entered into an agreement with the military removing the 59.38 acres of fair property from their lease. The problem began recently when fair board members found a military encampment on their property. One unit left the land once the ownership was brought to their attention, but apparently a second group tented there later was a bit more testy about leaving.

The newly constructed Lake Margrethe State Forest campground, located on the west shore of the lake near the outlet of Portage Creek has proven itself to be very popular already even though it is not 100 percent completed. Of the 46 campsites, as long ago as two weeks, 43 of them were full. Over this past weekend of the Fourth of July some folks intending to make camp there had to be turned away, as it was full.

At the annual organizational meeting of the Grayling School Board held Monday evening at the high school, Bill Joseph was elected president. Gordon "Sandy" Thompson, treasurer and Mrs. Robert Strong, recording secretary.

An All-Star team has been named from the Grayling Little League teams, which will play in the tournament in Petoskey in July 24. Representing Grayling will be Jim Corlew, Tom Douglas, Mike Mason, Rick Rybolt and Joe Thompson of Sorensons. Bruce Burkett, Mike Jungman, Ron Knuth and Dean Snyder of the Legion; Murray Babbitt and Dale Papendick of the Moose; John Redman, Wayne Laverick, Max Tobin of the Military.

The Paul Kings have purchased the former Mel Lucksted home in Pine Grove subdivision and will move in shortly. The Bob Kelly's who have been renting the Lucksted home, have purchased the Ed Skinner home on AuSable Trail and began moving in over the weekend.

The heat on Tuesday last week blew the safety release on the CO2 tanks at the Grayling Bottling Company.

Wednesday morning the good news was received that after several days of negotiations, the employees of the Kerry & Hanson Flooring Company and the company had signed an agreement that in substance gives the employees union recognition through the CIO and a wage increase.

The Hanson State Military Reservation is a busy place these days. While no troops are being trained there this season, still there are hundreds of men in camp. For nearly two months a large crew of men have been busy constructing a new sewer system. Also, the electric light and power systems are being remodeled.

Captain and Mrs. William Haydet of Algonac have purchased the property of the Miss Carrie Jorgenson estate on Maple Street. They plan to make the building into an apartment home, renting one of them and keeping the other one for their own use, when they care to come here on vacations.

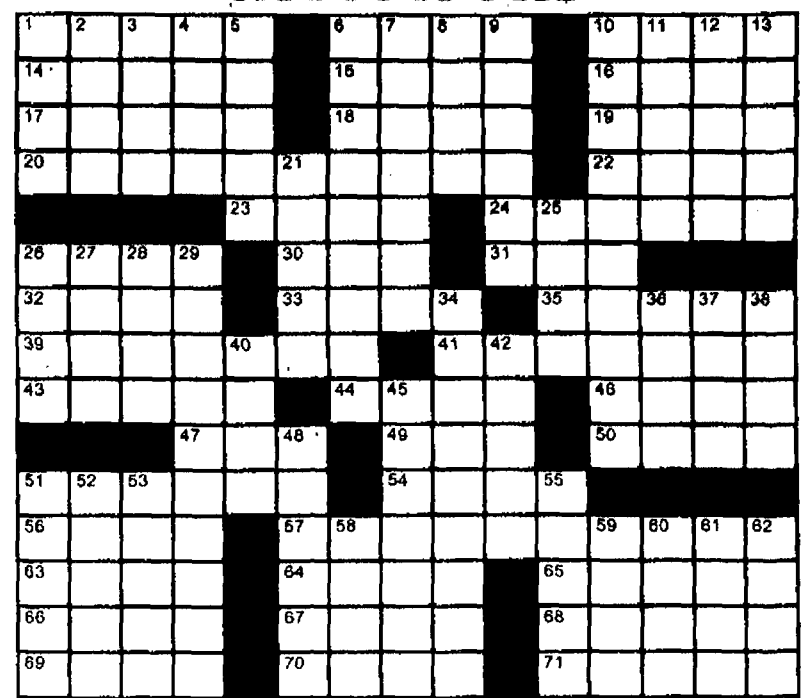

Everett Bidvia burned up the Grayling Golf Course last week when he shot a score of 34, three strokes under par. He parred six holes and birdied three. The course is a par 37. Only once before has a score of 34 been made on the course and that was by a stranger. Bidvia is a student at Central State College. During the summer he is a manager at the Grayling Clubhouse.

The STREAM & LAKE MAP OF MICHIGAN resembles another map—known to Pennsylvania anglers as the "Lost Stream Map." The "Stream Map of Pennsylvania" was completed in 1965 after a thirty-year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor. Professor Higbee succeeded in creating a map of the highest detail possible—a map that shows every stream and lake. He painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto a 3 by 5 foot map. The map sold extremely well—until it was lost several years after it first appeared in print. Incredibly, the printer entrusted with the original drawing and printing plates, declared bankruptcy, then carelessly hauled Higbee's 30 years of work to a landfill. The few remaining dog-eared copies became a prized fisherman's possession. Professor Higbee was offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key. Experts told Professor Higbee that reprints were impossible, because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue. Then, in 1991, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true. Computers made it possible to reprint the map. Holding an updated map, Howard said, "I never thought I'd live to see this day." Then, by combining Professor Higbee's knowledge with computer technology—the STREAM & LAKE MAP OF MICHIGAN was created.

Why every angler and boater needs this map
 Professor Higbee's "Stream & Lake Map of Michigan" is the first and only highly detailed map of its kind. The 4-foot-by-4-foot Michigan map shows 35,000 miles of streams plus lakes.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."
 Joe Gordon.
 TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. I don't know of anything more extensive and it is the most accurate map out there as far as streams are concerned."
 —Dave Wolf, PA Fish and Boat Commission

Kirtland, FSU sign nursing articulation pact

Officials from Kirtland Community College recently traveled to Ferris State University to sign a new articulation agreement in nursing, with the new partnership enabling students who have earned an associate's degree in nursing from Kirtland to smoothly transition into the bachelor's degree program at Ferris.

"Kirtland Health Sciences students will greatly benefit from the articulation agreement signed with Ferris," said Mary Ann Frick, KCC associate dean of Health Sciences. "It will facilitate a smooth transition for Kirtland nursing students who wish to transfer and complete their baccalaureate degree at this well-respected Michigan university."

"It was obvious from our meeting with the president and Allied Health Sciences administrators from Ferris that they truly understand and appreciate the excellent Health Sciences programs we offer at KCC and wish to facilitate the continued education of our graduates," Frick added.

In addition to the articulation agreement in nursing, KCC assistant registrar Kathleen Wray announced that other partnerships with Ferris are being explored in order to provide increased opportunities for Health Sciences students from northern Michigan to complete a bachelor's degree at Ferris.

"It's all about providing opportunities and options to our graduates to earn credentials which will make them even more marketable in a highly competitive job environment," Wray said.

FSU officials are equally excited about the new partnership.

"The college of Allied Health Sciences at Ferris State University is very pleased to join with Kirtland Community College to provide an opportunity for nurses to earn their bachelor's degree," said Ellen Haneline, the dean of FSU's Allied Health Sciences. "The Ferris bachelor's program adds to the excellent preparation received at Kirtland to prepare the nursing workforce of the future."

FSU's RN to BSN completion program was originally established as a model of articulation for community college nursing graduates and has maintained that philosophy with a design that facilitates transferability and career mobility, said Julie Coon, Ferris School of Nursing director.

"The program has a reputation for providing a consumer-friendly curriculum in formats that have been relevant and supportive of the working registered nurse," she added.

While the program started as an off-campus evening program in 1984, today's program has responded to the demand for greater flexibility and is now offered primarily online with more than 400 RNs enrolled in spring 2010.

For more information on this and other articulation agreements Kirtland has with four-year institutions, contact Wray via e-mail at wrayk@kirtland.edu or by calling 989-275-5000, extension 303.
